Created by: Aileen Daley & Amanda Dares

1. Fold the paper in half so it forms a triangle with the writing on the inside. Line up the edges. If there is an overhang, trim it to ensure that the paper is square. Unfold the sheet and repeat with the opposite corners. Unfold the triangle again. The paper should have two fold marks.
2. Flip the sheet over and fold the four corners into the centre so that you see “Leading the Way: Famous Peacemakers” and all eight numbers. It should form a square.
3. Flip the square over and fold the four corners into the centre so that you see all eight numbers.
4. Fold the square in half. Fold it in half again so that it is a small square. Ensure that all the edges are firmly creased.
5. Undo the last fold. The paper should be a rectangle and you should see part of the title. Place your thumb and index fingers underneath all four title flaps and push up. You should now have a completed game.

How to Play:

1. Open and shut the game with your left and right index fingers and thumbs. Ask your partner to pick a number on the inside of the game. Open and shut the game the number of times your partner picked. (Example - if you pick 8, open and shut the game 8 times.
2. Repeat the above step.
3. Ask your partner to pick another number from inside of the game. Open the flap and read the question under that number. You will find directions to the answer on the bottom right hand corner.

Peaceful Schools International

www.peacefullschoolsinternational.org

1. At age 12, he founded Kids Can Free the Children See #5
2. He created the United Nations Peacekeeping Force See #3
3. Lester B. Pearson
4. He wrote about his life during World War II in a new book. He fought for Black Civil Rights in America See #5
5. Gandhi
6. Winant
7. Martin Luther King Jr.
8. Anne Frank

Peacemakers

Lead the Way

Thank you for reading!